Crossfield United Church Announcements – March 26,26

Palm Sunday Worship is March 29th at 10 a.m.

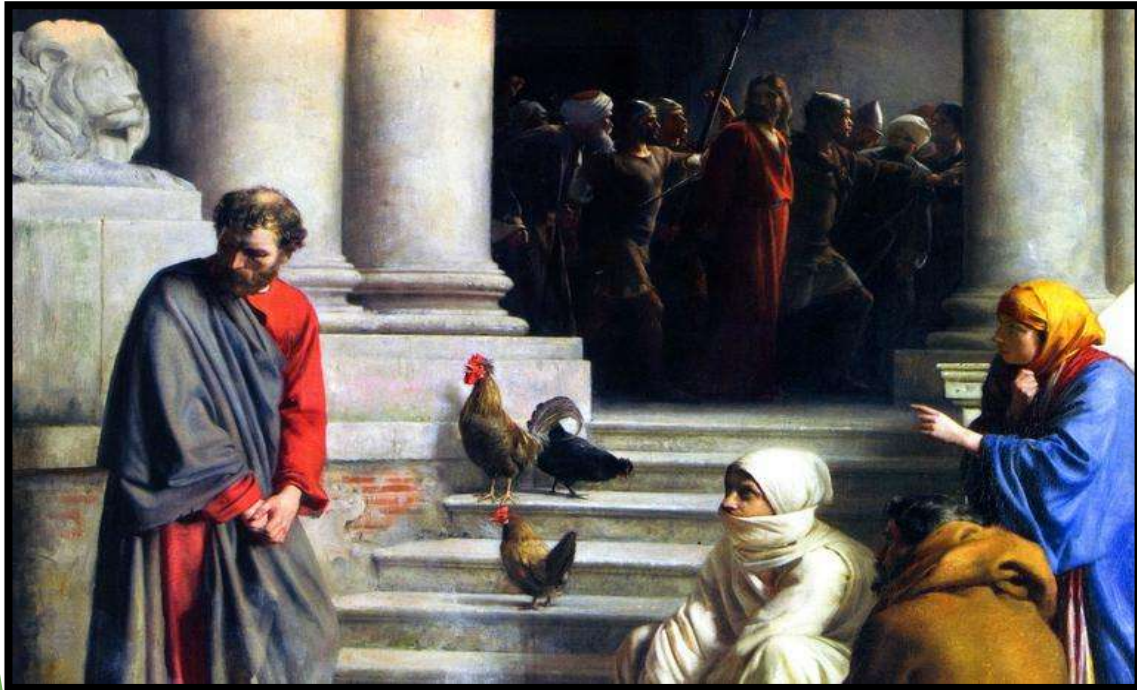

What's Happening at CUC this Sunday?

On Palm Sunday we join with other Christians around the world in celebrating what is often referred to as “the triumphal entry.” Join us for this sacred start to Holy Week. Worship at 10 a.m., fellowship and sharing to follow.

Good Friday

Our Good Friday service will be offered April 3rd at 10 a.m. This is a solemn worship service of readings, prayers and reflection. The story of the Passion of Christ will be proclaimed, our hope in Easter's promise of new life remembered. The service is not funeral but more of a quiet celebration of God's good news of salvation through the paradoxical suffering and death of our Lord Jesus Christ. The service concludes quietly with worshippers departing without socializing or gathering
